Jennings is downed by police on lawn after being routed by tear gas.

Youth Pulled From House

Pulaski, Va. (AP)—A young desperado was dragged screaming Tuesday night from the brick bungalow where he had stood off an army of police and held his 10-year-old sister-in-law hostage for 30 hours. The girl was not hurt.

Harless Hardin "Jackie" Jennings, brandishing a shotgun which he fired once or twice as he pushed the girl in front of him out the door, finally was flushed out by a barrage of tear gas.

"Duck, Barbara," police called to Barbara Butts as the little girl appeared in the doorway in front of the 18-year-old Jennings.

Several officers grabbed her and pulled her aside while others made for Jennings, whose shots coming out of the house hit nothing. There was a tussle as police jumped him, and he rolled screaming down the steps as they subdued him.

Jennings was dragged shrieking down the front walk and to a waiting police car. He was bleeding from a gash on the head which a police investigator inflicted with a club.

As Jennings was rushed to Southwestern State Hospital in a police cruiser, Barbara—dressed neatly in a green dress and brown coat—told newsmen of her ordeal.

"Jackie never hurt me," she said. "I wasn't scared." Did she have plenty to eat?

"Yes, I had hot dogs and toasted cheese sandwiches he (Jackie) sent out for," she replied.

Police ordered an all-out assault on the house after Jennings balked at an offer of commitment to a mental institution—a bid made by a psychiatrist and a radio newsmen which Jennings for a while seemed willing to accept.

As officers readied the attack Blaine Huff, a relative of the youth, walked toward the house.

"Will you talk to me, Jackie?" he asked. "You're not going to plug me, are you?" "No, no," came Jennings' voice from inside the house. When Huff had reached ex-

—OMAHA ONLY STOP— Kennedy Here Just A Day ... BEFORE STATE PRIMARY

By Don Walton
Sen. John Kennedy will confine his personal campaigning for Nebraska's presidential primary to a single day's appearances in Omaha May 7.

The decision to so limit Kennedy's activities here came as a result of the increasing tempo of the crucial and contested West Virginia presidential primary campaign, The Star learned Tuesday.

West Virginia, where Kennedy is pitted against Sen. Hubert Humphrey in a rematch of their Wisconsin battle, holds its primary on the same date as Nebraska—May 10.

Planned 2 Others
Kennedy had planned to campaign in Nebraska at least two additional dates, with appearances tentatively scheduled in Lincoln and out-state.

However, with the hint of a stop-Kennedy coalition developing in West Virginia, the Massachusetts Democrat has sliced campaign plans in Indiana, Oregon and Nebraska to allow an additional 9 days for West Virginia.

Kennedy will be accompanied by his wife, Jacqueline, on his Nebraska trip.

Agenda Told

He will arrive in Omaha by air that morning, hold a press conference, then address a combined school convocation for Omaha University and high school students at the Municipal Auditorium.

Kennedy will meet with various groups during the early afternoon, visit downtown shopping centers for on-the-street campaigning and appear at a hotel reception for nearly 1,000 women.

That evening, the senator will address the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner at the auditorium.

Nebraskans - for Kennedy, spearheaded by State Sen.

Hans Jensen of Aurora, James Green and Mrs. Helen Abdouch, both of Omaha, will travel the state campaigning during the next few weeks.

Kennedy is the only entrant in Nebraska's presidential primary.

$17 Million Atlas Site Bid Made

... LINCOLN AREA

Western Contracting Corp. of Sioux City, Iowa, submitted the apparent low bid of $17,400,000 Tuesday on basic construction of the Lincoln Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile bases.

The Army Engineer estimate on the 9 launcher site missile system was $18,398,377.

Other bidders included Gus K. Newberg, Chicago, $18,467,000; S. J. Groves Co., Minneapolis, $21,260,000; Peter Kiewit Sons Co., Omaha, $18,139,362; Raymond International, New York, and Allied Firms, $17,947,000; Potashnick Construction, Inc., and Associates, Cape Girardeau, Mo., $20,557,000; Morrison Knudsen, Los Angeles and Allied Firms, $18,297,000; George A. Fuller, Los Angeles, $18,616,000.

The bids covered only the work under supervision of the Army Engineers. They do not cover the cost of the missiles nor the electronic equipment to be installed by contractors to the U.S. Air Force.

Falling Power Pole Kills Gering Man

Wheatland, Wyo. (AP)—Robert L. Leake, 31, of Gering, Neb., was killed Tuesday by a falling power pole.

Leake was strapped to the pole by a safety belt. He worked for the Bureau of Reclamation and was helping replace poles at a power plant.

Roy Won't Be Riding Fair Trail This Year

Sad news for the younger set and a few thousand oldsters, too:

Roy Rogers won't be a featured attraction of the 1960 State Fair.

State Fair Board Manager Ed Schultz reported Tuesday that Rogers, on the advice of his doctors, won't hit the roundup trail this year.

Announcement of the grandstand feature will be made at a later date, Schultz said.

Castro Leading Drive On Rebs?

Havana (UPI)—Dispatches from the interior indicated Tuesday that Fidel Castro had personally taken command of a vast campaign against guerrilla forces in the Sierra Maestra, the onetime Castro mountain stronghold.

Reports from Santiago said worker militia units had gone into action with rebel army troops to hunt for the guerrillas operating in Oriente Province under command of Capt. Manuel Beaton, a former top Castro officer in Havana.

Castro was officially reported in Oriente on an "inspection tour" of the agrarian land reform program. But it was believed he was directing a substantial operation by troops, peasants and militiamen.

Meanwhile, the Castro government accused President Eisenhower of meddling in Cuban internal politics.

President Osvaldo Dorticos issued a 4500-word statement charging Eisenhower with "direct interference" in Cuban internal affairs when he said that Castro and other government leaders had "betrayed" the ideals of the revolution which brought them to power.

Santiago press dispatches reported new exploits by the anti-government guerrillas. Reports said they halted and burned a huge trailer truck late Sunday night.

Previously, the Beaton guerrillas were accused of slaying a government emissary sent to talk them into surrendering, of raiding a

FORGO FORCE, RUSS WARNED

Washington (UPI)—The United States, Britain and France warned Soviet Premier Khrushchev anew Tuesday that the Western powers will not be forced out of Berlin against their will.

The foreign ministers of the 3 allies announced after a two-hour conference on summit strategy that outstanding problems between Russia and the West will be settled "by negotiation and not by force or unilateral action."

High officials said the 3-power statement, in addition to reaffirming the allies' intention to stand fast against Russian pressure on Berlin, also made it clear that they would reject Khrushchev's repeated demands for separate peace treaties with divided Germany.

May Meeting In Paris

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville met in the mahogany-paneled State Department conference room to begin the task of mapping allied strategy for the fateful May summit meeting in Paris.

There President Eisenhower, British Prime Minister Macmillan, and French President de Gaulle will seek Soviet agreement on solutions to major cold war problems.

Disarmament, the problems of Germany and Berlin, and the subject of East-West relations are the major issues on the formal agenda of the 3-day foreign minister talks. But the question of a nuclear test ban, which Herter and Lloyd are discussing on the side, hangs heavy over the deliberations.

Communique Issued

The 3 Western ministers in a communique issued after their initial session said they "confirmed the desire of their governments to approach the heads of governments meeting in a constructive spirit" and "emphasized the need to solve outstanding problems by

WOW Asks Suggestions From Grubbs

William Grubbs, Nebraska insurance commissioner, said Tuesday the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society wishes to comply with any recommendations he may make on the firm's operations.

Grubbs said he intends to make several recommendations based on a report by his examiners, in the Omaha home office since March 4, and the minutes of the recent Miami, Fla., meeting of the board of directors.

Grubbs said the chairman of the board of directors, E. D. Rivers, former governor of Georgia, told him by telephone that he is anxious to receive Grubbs' report and is interested in full compliance with his recommendations.

Gets Minutes

Rivers has directed Omaha officials of the society to take minutes of the board meeting to Grubbs as soon as they are transcribed, and to ask the Nebraska insurance director for suggestions.

Grubbs said the fact that the society has reported dropping plans to move out of the state does not mean there will be no recommendations on the Omaha operations.

Grubbs said he has "no quarrel" with the idea of moving out of the state, but under Nebraska law it cannot be legally done without either dissolving or merging with another firm.

Nixon Vote Mild In Illinois Primary

Chicago (AP)—Gov. William G. Stratton, the state's top Republican leader, early Wednesday won nomination for a third term.

Otto Kerner, who had the backing of the state's most powerful Democrat, Mayor Richard J. Daley of Chicago, earned the right to run against the governor in the November election.

Opponents of Stratton and Kerner in Tuesday's Illinois primary conceded defeat after midnight.

Vice President Nixon, who had no competition in the presidential preference feature, rolled up a vote that seemed certain to top the 341,463 he gathered in Wisconsin a week ago. But it seemed equally certain to fall short of the 781,710 vote compiled by President Eisenhower in the Illinois primary in 1956.

Democrats outpolled Republicans by a wide margin, and the scandal in the Chicago police department sapped their vote-pulling strength little, if at all.

While the preference primary results are not binding, Nixon is expected to receive the state's 60 delegate votes at the nominating convention.

Returns from 5,672 of the state's 9,980 precincts gave Nixon 326,112 votes.

Nixon didn't campaign in Illinois and his backers didn't put on a drive for him, either. Eisenhower, in the 1956 primary, had some weak opposition.

Many Feared Dead In Fire

Perote, Mexico (AP)—Many Mexicans were feared killed in the explosion of 15 tanker cars of gasoline following a collision on the main Mexico City-Vera Cruz rail line.

A train of 24 loaded tanker cars collided with a locomotive maneuvering on the line 150 miles from Mexico City, and 15 of the cars overturned.

Twister Levels Hamlet

Amarillo, Tex. (AP)—A tornado swooped out of the darkness and smashed the village of Sunnyside in the Texas panhandle while most of the residents were at church Tuesday night. At least 4 died and 32 were injured.

A woman standing outside the church spotted the whirling funnel cloud and shouted an alarm. The congregation dashed for storm cellars. Some failed to get there in time.

In Sunnyside, a crossroads village of 35 or 40 persons, the lethal blow smashed the Baptist Church, the single store, a cotton gin and 4 or 5 homes. Roofs flew off the other 3 or 4 homes in the community.

Other Funnels

It was one of at least 3 tornadoes writhing over the west Texas plains in about 4 waves of violent thunderstorms.

"The scene was one of almost complete destruction," said Castro County Sheriff Jack Cartwright of Dimmitt, 15 miles north of Sunnyside.

"We found the 4 bodies scattered in the debris," the sheriff said. "I helped load the bodies of two—an old man and a little girl."

APRIL SHOWER MIGHT COME EAST'S WAY

The weatherman predicts showers and thunderstorms for the eastern portion of Nebraska Wednesday diminishing by Wednesday night.

Shifting winds are expected with cooler temperatures throughout the state Wednesday and Wednesday night. Highs will range between 55 and 65.

Scattered light rain and thundershowers were reported throughout the state Tuesday.

Lincoln and Omaha reported the state high Tuesday of 72 with other points throughout the state reporting temperatures in the 60s and low 70s. Norfolk had the state low of 37. Lincoln's low was 52.

—Time Nears To Pack Vacationing Gear— BEAUTIFUL FT. ROBINSON ONE OF STATE GEMS

(Editor's Note: This is the second of two articles on Nebraska's own vacation resources.)

By Don Walton

Fort Robinson, two miles west of Crawford not far from the Wyoming-South Dakota border, is Nebraska's newest state park facility—and one of its most scenic.

The stark badlands lie but a few miles to the north. Visitors to the 100-acre park have a wide choice of pursuits: camping, picnicking, horseback-riding, fishing, nearby hunting, and historical explorations.

The fort was established in 1874 as a base of operations against hostile Indians. Many arrowheads and other Indian artifacts can still be discovered nearby.

Cabins, Lodge
Tourists will find 14 rental-cabin units—8 with housekeeping facilities—and a stately lodge with 10-hotel-type rooms (with bath) at the site.

Travelers should take U.S. 20 to this newest recreational facility.

Other state parks (4 were reviewed in the previous article):
Victoria Springs: 7 miles north of Merna on State 2 and State 80 touching the Sandhills in the center of the state.

The park has numerous mineral springs, no two of which are chemically alike. Victoria Springs boasts modern cabins, space for camping and a lake for fishing and boating.

Stolley: primarily an historical site, with no vacation areas except for picnicking. There are no cabins, although camping is permitted.

Fort Indy
Located southwest of Grand

Island, Stolley is the site of Old Fort Independence.

Fort Kearny: 4 miles south and 4 miles east of Kearney, this facility is also an historical site.

The park is the site of Old Fort Kearny, a fortress in the late 1840's to nearly 50,000 emigrants who traveled the Oregon Trail during the Gold Rush.

The park contains the original parade grounds and site of the stockade and fort buildings.

Cabin Rates

Now, for cabin rates at state parks:

Chadron—double cabins, $6 per day.

Ponca, Victoria Springs, Niobrara—single cabins, $5 a day; double cabins, $6 per day.

Fort Robinson—single cabins without cooking facilities, $4 per day; double cabins without cooking, $6; double with cooking, $8; 3-bedroom cabins with cooking, $10, and rooms in lodge, $3 per day.

National Areas
Among the national recreational areas in Nebraska, the vacationer can choose from two national monuments, a national forest and two reservoir recreation areas.

The monuments are located west of Scottsbluff and southwest of Beatrice.

The vast forest is southwest of Valentine in Cherry County and southeast of Thedford in Thomas and Blaine Counties.

The reservoir areas are in Harlan County near the Kansas border and Lewis and Clark Lake along the Missouri River in northeastern Nebraska.

The Weather

NEBRASKA: Considerable cloudiness with showers and thunderstorms east Wednesday, diminishing Wednesday night. Strong shifting winds east. Cooler over most of state Wednesday and Wednesday night. Highs Wednesday 55 to 65.

KANSAS: Showers and thunderstorms ending east Wednesday forenoon; otherwise partly cloudy and a little cooler Wednesday and Wednesday night. Highs Wednesday in the 60s.

Cubana Pilot Asks U.S. Sanctuary

PROP-JET IS LANDED IN MIAMI

Miami, Fla. (P) — A Cubana Airlines pilot, who landed his big prop-jet plane in such a hurry that he burned out two engines flew himself and 3 companions to political asylum in the United States Tuesday.

"We left because the communists have control in Cuba," said Pilot Gonzalo Herrera. "It is terrible."

The Viscount plane, on a regularly scheduled Havana-Miami flight, also had 15 passengers — 11 aliens and 4 U.S. citizens — who knew nothing of Herrera's intentions.

Seeking refuge with Herrera were Francisco Monnar, the purser; Pedro Montero, United Press International reported officials of Cubana Airlines said Pilot Herrera burned out the turbines of the plane's engines after the ship was on the ground. They estimated damage at $300,000.

A friend of Herrera, Teddy Whitehouse, said the sabotage had been planned so that the plane "will not be used by the Communists."

a Cubana pilot who hid in the plane's washroom before the takeoff; and Angel E. Lopez, a pilot for a Cuban Air Taxi Co. Lopez flew as a passenger.

3 Others To Return

Three other crew members plan to return to Havana.

The refugees were greeted at Miami International Airport by Eduardo Whitehouse, a former Cubana pilot and Cuba's civil aviation chief under Fulgencio Batista, the ousted dictator.

Whitehouse said the flight had been planned for some time.

"The feeling of these people is that they are coming over to the right side because of the communism in Cuba," he said.

JOBLESS TOTAL UP

... Blame March Storms

Washington (P) — The worst March storms in two decades sent unemployment soaring beyond the 4 million mark last month. Employment declined substantially.

The Labor Department, announcing the new figures Tuesday, predicted a sharp rebound in the job situation in April.

Seymour Wolfbein, department manpower chief, said better April weather promises improvement.

Employment declined by 253,000 in March, totaling 64,267,000 compared with 64,520,000 in February. Normally employment increases by about 450,000 during that period. This means there were 700,000 fewer jobs than expected.

Unemployment rose by 275,000 — biggest March increase since World War II. The idle total was 4,206,000 compared with 3,931,000 in February. A decline of 180,000 had been expected.

Missing Lincoln Trucker Found At Home In Bed

Oakland, Calif. (UPI) — A furniture truck driver reported missing by his employer Tuesday on a scheduled trip from Oakland to Modesto was actually home asleep.

Randy Garrett, 36, whose home is in Lincoln, Neb., had been scheduled to check in with Fore Van Lines of Alameda before returning to Nebraska with the truck, owned by Ford Van Lines, a sister agency.

Walter R. Smith of Fore Lines reported Garrett to the police when he failed to return from Modesto. However, Smith said that Garrett thought he had a day off after the trip and simply went home to bed.

So. Africa Beckons To Whites

Labor Gate Closing To Migratory Negro

Johannesburg, South Africa (P)—South Africa is closing its gates against migratory Negro labor and seeking to swell the influx of white immigrants, the government announced Tuesday.

A long range plan to improve the balance of 3 million whites against 10 million blacks was outlined by Interior Minister J. F. Naude before Parliament in Cape Town.

Speaking in this fourth week of a crisis capped Saturday by a white man's attempt to assassinate Prime Minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd, Naude said the government now considers immigration of the utmost importance and specially wants white skilled workers.

He mentioned the Netherlands, Belgium and Germany as likely sources to improve the flow, which has been running only about 16,000 annually.

Coupled with this was a warning to the nation's farmers that they will soon have to do without the cheap help of Negroes who have been imported for farm work by the thousands from other African territories.

He said the basement was inspected Monday by Maj. Gen. Lyle A. Welch, state adjutant general, and Ken Lake of Denver, regional Civil Defense shelter engineer.

The federal government has a program to put a fallout shelter in every governor's house in the United States, Brooks said, at federal expense. All the states have to supply is the location and equipment.

Lake said the mansion would be a good location for a shelter for 5 to 10 people.

South Korea Added To Ike Itinerary

Washington (P) — President Eisenhower Tuesday added a one-day visit to South Korea to his projected trip to Russia and Japan in June.

CRISIS IN ITALY GRAVE

NO GOVERNMENT AND NONE IN SIGHT

By James M. Long

Rome (P) — Italy is mired in a grave political crisis jeopardizing its whole post-war system of parliamentary democracy.

There was no government. And there was black pessimism over the prospects of forming one easily or soon.

The once-mighty Christian Democrat Party which led every Italian government since the fall of Fascism has split apart at the seams.

Italy is caught in the multi-party chaos that led to the fall of the French fourth republic.

Almost every independent newspaper in Italy put the blame on an internal break-up of the Christian Democrat Party.

The first warning that this NATO nation might be in serious trouble came Feb. 24.

The Cuban Fuse

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

With only a little more than a year behind him, Fidel Castro, revolutionary leader of Cuba, has spread a record amount of disillusion. When he rode triumphantly into Havana, it was the hope of the United States and the conviction of his countrymen that things were beginning to look up for this small island republic.

Dictatorship had been the order of the day prior to this time and the basis on which Castro built his own rise to power. But it has not taken long for the dictatorship which was deposed simply to find new form within the thinking and behavior of Castro. Surrounded by inexperienced public officials and Communist sympathizers, the Castro regime drifted into a totalitarian state which now shows every sign of permanency. Current news accounts are now carrying reports of embryo anti-Castro revolutionary forces forming in the same mountains which one time were the bastion of Castro's forces.

Within Cuba there is growing discontent, particularly among the professional and middle income groups. A majority of the people are still with their bearded revolutionary hero but he is rapidly losing ground. This is evident from the growing frequency with which the Cuban government must resort to police state tactics.

Freedom of the press, freedom of assembly, freedom of speech — all of these have been thrown away in an effort to keep control over the population of the land. Still dreaming of better days ahead, the average Cuban has not yet lost all confidence. He is reasoning that these abuses are essential to clean up the injustices of the Batista government.

While this hope lingers on, the influence of communism is becoming more and more apparent. Castro-appointed politicians speak out openly against the "capitalist" United States and in favor of Russian alliances. They attack any and all groups or organizations which still enjoy a vestige of freedom because freedom is something on which communism cannot live. American financial interests are being destroyed and without compensation from the government. Certain land reforms have been initiated and the government has pumped money into public works projects. Other efforts aimed at economic reform have been instigated but the results of all of Castro's efforts have been discouraging. Unable to give his people the pie-in-the-sky he promised them, he has turned against the United States as an excuse for all his problems.

His attacks against this country have left Americans bitterly disappointed. People who hoped that Castro would succeed are beginning to conclude that this is an impossibility. The situation has now degenerated into a vicious circle in which U.S. and Cuban relationships deteriorate more and more with every passing day.

Many people are asking what can be done in Cuba to save the situation but no one has the answer. Harsh treatment of the Castro government by U.S. officials is no solution now. This will simply create more ill feeling and animosity as it will be used by the Cubans as additional ammunition against us in the eyes of the Cuban people. The key to Cuban peace lies in economic development but we cannot supply this either.

We cannot build the industry and develop the agriculture which would put Cuba on a firm fiscal basis. We could help in this but the majority of the ingredients of any such evolution are within control of the island itself. This is the greatest failure of Castro — his failure to act from the beginning toward a state of financial independence for his people. He painted for his people a vision of greatness and prosperity that he could never hope to achieve in the time he gave himself for it. Overnight, he promised to transform the country into a Garden of Eden and a land of plenty for all.

What he should have done was proceed with the painstaking establishment of a free government under which the natural forces of economic law could operate to their fullest advantage. He could have gradually established laws permitting the fair and equitable utilization of the country's resources but he chose force rather than reason. He has created a powder keg which could explode any day in almost any direction.

No Easy Answer

The City Council has been given a real hot potato in the form of a petition for gratings for all storm sewer openings. Nothing could be more understandable than the feelings of parents who want the storm sewer openings covered for the protection of children who might fall into them. On the other hand, such protection would seriously impair the function of the sewers.

It is true that a child could slip into just about any storm sewer opening now in existence along city streets. But the child would just about have to make a special effort to get into the sewer. An accidental fall into the sewers would appear to be a very remote possibility. And it is impossible for the city to offer protection against every and all possible dangers that exist.

Dead Man's Run, Antelope Creek, Salt Creek and other smaller streams and drainage ditches in the city offer much more danger than the storm sewer openings but nothing can be done about it. Just being alive is a danger, as yearly reports on deaths and accidents will show. The serious and sometimes fatal things which can happen to both children and adults during the course of any one day are practically without limit.

This doesn't mean that we should, therefore, ignore the things that we can do something about but it does suggest that we examine the practical aspects of any situation before going into action. It is hard to say that we should not cover sewer openings when there is a possibility of a child's being killed by falling into them. But it is hard, also, to say we should cover them all in view of the expense, the overall need and the adverse effect it would have on storm water drainage. We have to admit that we cannot just eliminate everything which has within it the possibility of loss of life. If we did, we would simply have to stop living.

Environmental Malady

Washington spends too much time trying to work out a code of ethics to keep bias out of government, especially the kind of bias that thrives on influence and favors. It is a waste of effort in a system that encourages bias.

Senator Proxmire, D., Wisconsin, has offered the Congress a better remedy. He would have the federal government do as Wisconsin did. In 1957 the Wisconsin legislature enacted a statute forbidding lobbyists from giving favors to any state official or employee from the governor down. This includes, food, beverages, money, lodging, campaign contributions, entertainment plus anything else of beneficial value. Strangely enough the law, after two years of trial, is popular both with the lobbyists and the public servants.

There is a fundamental fault in American thinking which starts out by assuming that lobbying is a shabby business. There are unnumbered interests whose reasonable welfare is vital to a just and whole-

Franklin D. Roosevelt

Fifteen years ago this week President Franklin D. Roosevelt died. He died rather quickly and unexpectedly at Warm Springs, Ga., where he had gone for a brief rest. The news stunned the nation and brought an outpouring of grief around the world. He had served three terms as President and was beginning his fourth term—the longest period of individual leadership in the nation's history.

President Roosevelt accepted a nation in receivership in 1932. By the time of his death he had completed the fundamental readjustments of recovery; given the nation new confidence, preserved its democracy, ushered in the atomic age and assured victory of the free world over the most some nation, interests whose impersonal nature deprives them of voting rights and other privileges granted to citizens. A corporation cannot send its representative to Congress, yet it should have its right to be heard. The right is given to it in the courts of law and it is significant that instances are extremely rare in which judges are subjected to influence efforts or payola.

The initial step toward higher public ethics requires that a non-voting interest may prepare and present its arguments in a direct manner and to be freed of the compulsion of going behind the scenes and resorting to questionable acts in order to get its case in evidence.

There is a proper place for ethical, reasonable pleading and if it is established then much that is shameful or questionable will depart. That, plus a little swift and sharp punishment for public officials who like their handouts too well would take care of most of the problem of influence peddling.

In the cool light of fact, Henry Steele Commager, eminent American historian, editor of a 40 volume work on "The Rise Of The American Nation," finds no evidence to support Roosevelt as a revolutionary or even a radical. He said:

"He was, indeed in a very deep sense, conservative: conservative in his feeling for tradition, in his passion for saving the land and national resources, in his economic experiments and in his sense of the obligation of the whole society for the health of all of its parts."

His field was five fold. He restored national spirit. He saw to the physical rehabilitation of the nation, of soil and water and resources; he pushed human rehabilitation; he restored health to business, industry and finance; he revitalized the political parties, strengthened the executive power and restored equality between the political and judicial branches.

A modernizer, a reformer, a humanitarian, yes. A revolutionary, no. When he was finished, our fundamental institutions emerged stronger than ever.

GOP Would Stall Watchdog Committee

WASHINGTON — Republican leaders don't want the Democrats to know it, but they are quietly checking on five Democratic senators who have investments in TV stations. Their secret strategy is to retaliate against the Democrats in case the latter really go to town with their "Freedom Of Information Watchdog Committee" appointed by Sen. Warren Magnuson last fall but never actually implemented.

The five senators the Republicans are checking are: Lyndon Johnson, Tex., Magnuson, Wash., Kerr, Okla., Anderson, N. Mex., and O'Mahoney, Wyo. Except for Kerr, who with his family is quite a group TV owner, and Johnson, whose wife owns parts of four stations, the other senators hold small interests each in one station. All this is a matter of public record. It has never been secret.

However, ever since Magnuson appointed Sens. Ralph Yarborough, Texas, and Gale McGee, Wyoming, on a watchdog committee, along with GOP Sen. Hugh Scott of Philadelphia, the Republicans have been trying to sidetrack their work.

Though the three men were appointed in September, not a single dollar has been allocated to the committee and not one staff member appointed. Six months have passed and not a single piece of work has been undertaken.

Magnuson's strategy in appointing the watchdog committee was first, the fact that Congress last year modified the equal-time provision requiring radio and TV stations to give equal time to all candidates; second, the fact that in election years the big advertisers and Madison Avenue ad agencies have relinquished time in the final weeks of the campaign to their favored candidate. And past records show that Madison Avenue has always leaned heavily toward the Republicans.

In fact, the Democratic National Committee was only able to find one Madison Avenue ad agency in 1955 that would consent to handle its account—even though the work meant a sizable chunk of revenue for the agency accepting the account.

Note—One GOP method of sidetracking the watchdog committee probe has been to place it under Sen. John Pastore, the pleasant, rhyming Democrat from Rhode Island. Pastore is already chairman of a subcommittee on television, but has occupied this position for two years with little result. Republicans now argue that it would be an affront to Pastore to have another TV committee established.

DORIS FLEENON

Stevenson As A Candidate Grows

WASHINGTON — Adlai Stevenson is now so plainly available for the Democratic nomination for president that the only questions remaining are when, how and by whom he will be propelled into the arena.

At this point no national Stevenson organization exists which can act as a clearinghouse for the many volunteer groups that are proclaiming that this is Stevenson's year. Stevenson does not want one, and he is probably right that any personal effort now would only injure his chances later.

His present speeches are directed at proving that he is the kind of president the country needs. He hopes to show that he is working on its problems and has ideas for handling them. Beyond that, he seems to feel that there is little he can do except maintain his personal dignity and treat fairly all other aspirants for the White House.

He can expect that former President Truman will argue against his nomination on the ground he is not electable, should matters at Los Angeles reach the smoke-filled room stage. He has a staunch spokesman in Gov. David Lawrence of Pennsylvania, who would certainly be on hand in that same room.

What he will have to play by ear is his relations with disappointed rivals if and when the compromise discussions begin. In private, Stevenson supporters most often mention Sen. John Kennedy as their preference for a first approach. But they do not and cannot now know what Kennedy's frame of mind will be when the chips are down, should he fail to make it himself.

Stubborn fidelity to Stevenson is already showing as one of Kennedy's handicaps. It lost him at least one district in Wisconsin, as Sen. Hubert Humphrey candidly admitted.

That district, however, did not reveal anything new about Stevenson's appeal. It included Dane County, seat of the state government and the influential University of Wisconsin.

When Democrats talk of a third nomination for Stevenson, they raise the question of what he might expect in 1960 from Vice President Richard Nixon, who attacked him so bitterly and personally in 1952 and 1956. So far, the vice president has stuck to his determination to stay on the high road where President Eisenhower so easily took Stevenson's measure. Some of the associates Nixon is lining up for his 1960 effort are drawn, however, from his older and rougher days and could conceivably alter his plans.

Also, Nixon does not have in sight a possible vice presidential candidate who could press the attack on the Democrats in the old Nixon manner. Yet a really polite campaign for the presidency has still to take place here and probably won't this time.

Southerners continue to feel that their region could go for Stevenson without too much pain. Farm state Democrats react tepidly to the prospect, but he is holding his ground in the West and Northwest. Sen. Wayne Morse has indicated friendship for Stevenson which reflects Oregon sentiment as much as it does Morse's own view.

CHILDREN OF THE BIBLE

Joshua

A boy who had courage was Joshua, destined by God to become the leader of his people after the death of Moses.

He was born in bondage in Egypt. Originally, his name was Hosea, which means "Salvation." But Moses changed it to Joshua (or, as it is pronounced in Hebrew, Johoshuah), meaning "salvation of God."

His heart was made fearless and his body strong under the lash of Egyptian taskmasters. He watched his people labor unto death in the blazing desert sun building magnificent temples, constructing new cities, and raising colossal monuments to the Pharaohs.

The Hebrew slaves did all kinds of work. They sweated and toiled in the granite quarries of Aswan, where they cut great thousand-ton blocks of stone and strained their muscles to shreds to mount them on rollers.

They were hitched to the massive blocks and driven by the whips of overseers in long, tugging human teams that dragged the stones to the river's edge and loaded them onto the barges.

Young Joshua saw his brothers die—from disease, from sunstroke, from beatings, from sheer exhaustion.

But he kept faith in God. He was ready for the call, when it finally came, to march beside Moses when he led the Israelites to freedom in the wilderness.

And it was he that the dying Moses chose as his successor, to lead the people of God into the promised land.

"And the Lord spake unto Moses, face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend. And he turned again into the camp; but his servant Joshua, the son of Nun, a young man, departed not out of the tabernacle."

—Exodus XXXIII:11

"Be strong and of good courage," Moses charged him, "for thou shalt bring the children of Israel into the land which I swear unto them."

And Joshua, a child of bondage who became a brave soldier of freedom in Jehovah's army, carried out this command in the years to come.

Preparation For The Russian Tour

MOSCOW — Jim Hagerty, the presidential press secretary, has been here in Moscow conferring with Russian officials and arranging the tedious details of the President's visit to Moscow, Leningrad, Stalingrad, and elsewhere in the Soviet Union in June. It is a familiar task for Jim Hagerty but hardly one that can be done blindfolded or with one hand behind his back.

A presidential tour is one of the most complicated ventures in the history of transportation and protocol. But it is much more. For example, there is the matter of the President's security. He will not face the dangers Khrushchev faced in the United States. There are no refugee groups in Russia which harbor bad feelings for the leader of the American democracy, but his personal safety is of extreme importance to both countries.

The Kremlin has been informed of the limitations of the President's diet, and the way Mamie likes her eggs done. Honor guards from the Soviet armed forces are already preparing for the day weeks from now when he will walk past them in review. The cannon for the 21-gun salutes are probably already in place and gun crews selected.

Dewey Long, the White House transportation chief, also has been here and busy at work on his own blizzard of details. This will be a much tougher schedule to map out than the one which Ike followed in South America. There he used his own jet. Here the Russians will fly him. The President probably will transfer from his Boeing 707 to the TU-104, a type of Soviet jet which Vice President Nixon used in his flights to Leningrad, Novosibirsk, and Sverdlovsk last summer.

While the President and his party—which will include 100 newsmen — crisscross the Soviet Union in the course of visiting the various cities on the schedule, the President's own jet and other planes that accompany him on his trips will fly out to some point near Vladivostok to await his arrival there. Then we'll all transfer back into the American planes for the flight across the sea of Japan to Tokyo, which is the next stop on this dramatic last good-will tour of Dwight David Eisenhower as President of the United States.

Leaving the Soviet Union by way of Siberia is a rare concession accorded to the President, by the way. Vice President Nixon made it a pointed request for permission to do the same last summer because he wanted to stop off in Alaska on his way home, but his request was turned down.

At the conclusion of his tour of the Soviet Union, President Eisenhower will appear on television and radio, and be given the same opportunity to speak to the people as Khrushchev was given at the end of his American trip.

Stalingrad, for example, is bound to hear him applaud the valor of brave men who made their do-or-die stand there, and vow that the peace they bought with their blood shall not be broken.

This is but a sample of the incredible amount of work that goes into such an expedition. The mission of peace can be almost as involved and costly, in terms of dollars at least, as the mission of war.

Beatrice, Neb. Mr. K's Frankenstein monster, with the help of some of Uncle Sam's trusted people, has reacted on him. Hence his new attitude toward the western world to which he has been driven by Red China's activities. Red China is no fool and will make good use of the formula and probably improve on it. They were the first to invent gunpowder, and will make things unpleasant for Russia and the West. Napoleon said China was a sleeping lion and to let her sleep, but Mr. K. and the West have twisted her tail and have realized their mistakes too late.

No Isolation Lincoln, Neb. I would like to express my hearty agreement with the ideas set forth in your editorial on immigration quotas.

As a teen-ager, I have often thought that we would be helping to build a better tomorrow if we shared the riches of America with those people who wish to come here. In a world where one can fly from New York to Paris in five hours, there is no room for an isolationist United States.

Your editorial inspired me to hope that President Eisenhower's proposal to raise the immigration quota will be approved. I trust that many other Americans feel the same way.

Bomb Scare Defendant 'Just Joking'—Jail Term Sought

Indianapolis, Ind. (UPI) — The federal government Tuesday demands a jail sentence for an airline passenger who insisted he dropped the word "bomb" to a stewardess in a moment of jest.

NU Gives Grants To Freshmen

... $22,000 Total

Freshman scholarships totaling $22,000 have been offered to 73 Nebraska high school seniors by the Committee on General Scholarship Awards of the University of Nebraska.

The 73 grants, varying from $240 to $700, are offered on the basis of scholastic excellence with the amount of each reflecting the result of a thorough analysis of the family financial resources available to the student.

Mrs. Jane Wendorff, assistant for Scholarship Awards, said 800 high school seniors applied for the grants which are independent of the University Regents' scholarship program. The committee will have a small number of additional freshman scholarships to offer as well as a few other University agencies such as the Colleges of Agriculture and Engineering and Architecture.

In a further effort to help outstanding students of limited financial means with their plans for college, the University has expanded its work scholarship program. Under it some 400 part-time jobs will be available to freshmen next fall.

Those receiving the freshman scholarships from Lincoln are:

Lincoln High — Gayle Phyllis Pitsch, Richard Edwin Imm, Larry Dean Clawson, Richard Dale Miller and Linda Ann Schuldeis.

Lincoln Northeast — Carolyn Sue Depriest.

Lincoln Southeast — Marvin Leroy Dietrich, Michael John Murray, Charlette Ann Suder, Allan Dean Brown and Mary Jane Thomason.

$9,300 Grant Will Sponsor Physics Setup

A $9,300 grant from the National Science Foundation will be used by Wesleyan University to conduct an institute on physics for high school teachers, next fall.

The institute will be a followup or a summer meeting for teachers of physics to be held at Wesleyan this summer.

Participating teachers will receive from two to three hours of instruction during each of the 30 weeks of the new program. Participating students will receive allowances for travel and books and will pay no tuition or fees.

Road Dept. To Hire Landscape Architect

Charles E. Duncan, 26, will join the State Highway Department in June as landscape architect, acting State Engineer John Hossack announced Tuesday.

Duncan, a native of Denison, Iowa, will graduate in May from Iowa State College at Ames.

rested by FBI agents Monday night, charged with making a false bomb report, and released on $2,000 bond.

Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers said in Washington the Justice Department would ask a jail sentence for Brown if he were convicted, indicating a toughening government crackdown against bomb hoaxes aboard planes.

Brown could be sentenced to up to a year in prison and fined as much as $1,000.

The alleged phony bomb report prompted pilot Neal Payton, 38, to turn his airliner around and fly back to municipal airport at Indianapolis. A search of the plane produced no bomb.

At a federal hearing, Brown said Stewardess Rosemarie Stroup was "fussing" with luggage stacked over his head and warned him "Don't let it fall on your head."

All he said, Brown recounted, was "You mean like a bomb?"

Scare Word

"That's not very funny," Brown said the stewardess retorted. He said she seemed to "freeze" when he used the word "bomb." She summoned a co-pilot.

Brown said he apologized, admitting "That was the wrong thing to say."

FBI agents seized Brown,

the father of two children, at the airport.

The arrest was first announced in Washington by FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover, who said it was the third such arrest in a week.

At Michigan City, Brown's wife said her husband's arrest "seems like a nightmare."

"I honestly think there's something peculiar about this," Mrs. Brown said.

Library Committee To Investigate Expansion Of Services

The Library Board Tuesday appointed a committee to study expansion of Lincoln library service to all of Lancaster County. The question originally arose at the board's March meeting.

Named to the committee were George Holyoke, Mrs. Arnott Folsom and Mrs. John Angle.

Libraries Director Charles E. Dalrymple Jr. commented: "It is apparent we need to plan for a larger unit of service."

On other matters, the board postponed decision on a proposal to send a delegate to a June national meeting in Montreal of the National Library Trustees Assn. and American Library Assn. included in the proposal was an appropriation to pay the delegate's hotel and transportation costs.

In further action the board decided to confer with the Library Foundation on establishment of a "Friends of the Library" group whose purpose would be to arouse support for the library's service program.

Dalrymple made 4 announcements to the board: —that about 50 pieces of original art, recently received from the Lincoln Artists Guild, will be added to the library circulation. They will be shown during early

May at the South branch, 27th & South, and Bethany branch, 1810 No. Cotner Blvd., because of "inadequate facilities" at the main library.

—that the summer children's reading program will be entitled the "Pony Express Reading Club."

—that beginning April 20, radio station KFMQ will broadcast a 15-week series of library-sponsored "Great Books" discussions.

—that a "Reading Aloud" series will be presented, starting May 18, over KUON-TV.

The Lincoln Board of Education Tuesday approved the opening of 54th Street from Vine to S, as requested by the H. A. Wolf Company, with the following provisions:

—That the H. A. Wolf Co. agree to the regrading of the east end of the school grounds to provide an appropriate slope presenting a good appearance and suitable for landscaping, without cost to the Board of Education.

—That the H. A. Wolf Co. agree to pay all the paving costs for 54th Street between Vine and S Streets.

—And that the H. A. Wolf Co. assume responsibility of all storm sewer costs, and that the developer coordinate this work in such a manner as to allow the School District to make the proper drainage connections to existing catch basins on the playground.

Ed Board Pays $488 To Company On Claim Request

Action was taken by the Lincoln Board of Education Tuesday to pay the Cook Construction Co. $488.50 as reimbursement for building changes at the Gen. Arnold School in the Lincoln Air Force Base housing area.

The Cook firm had requested the board to ask the federal government for a total of $4,638.38 in reimbursement for materials and labor costs in excess of the original contract.

The major items included in the request were $1,200 for electrical power, and $934.24 for labor in dismantling and reconstruction of the school auditorium dome.

The Cook Co. deemed the original design as submitted by Clark and Enersen Architects weak and impossible to erect.

The board, in refusing to pay or seek funds for the total reimbursement, maintained that the extra expenses could not be construed as the financial responsibility of the board.

POSTCARD

"Do not wear bright clothing as it excites the animals. Looking forward to, etc."

That is a nice piece of mail to get this nice morning.

It is a letter from Ray Ryan. Oilman and millionaire sportsman, as we say in the journals. It is written on the elegant stationery of the elegant Mount Kenya Safari Club. Gold-embossed elephants. Plenty of class.

The club was started by Mr. Ryan and Mr. William Holden, the movie actor. I am a member of this organization. Entitled to visit the Club in Darkest Africa.

I tell you, it gives you a feeling that you really BELONG, you know what I mean?

Well, let us look over the wardrobe. I suppose the red corduroy jacket is out. It would excite the animals. It is an exciting jacket—it excited me and that is why I bought it.

That is a code among us African hunters. We shoot dangerous game. But we must follow it and make the kill. Even though the White Hunter tells us we are risking our lives.

Anyway, we are standing around telling these stories. And we are having our pink gins. I do not know why but all African hunters take pink gins. I think it wards off sleeping sickness. Or the common cold.

Obviously, nothing looks better with pink gins than a fire engine-red jacket.

However, we cannot excite the animals. Oh, this jacket also excites ladies. I could tell you—but who wants to listen to an old African hunter's memories.

"A snarling and tail-wagging lion doesn't mean a charging lion. When the lion's tail goes up, it's time to move out of his way."

That is the kind of information we get around the club.

I don't know why Ryan is sending me all this information about charging animals. But it surely makes good table conversation. Like:

"Did you know that a rhino points his head downward three times before he charges?"

I dropped that one the other night. I understand it caused a good deal of comment.

I know one that Ray Ryan doesn't know. An umbrella is very good for frightening off tigers.

You point the umbrella at the tiger. And you open it and close it slowly. Open and close. Open and close.

The tiger figures you are some kind of a puff adder. He takes it on the Arthur Duffy and tells his wife: "A frightening thing happened to me today."

I think there are no tigers in Africa. But it is a handy thing to know.

I guess the green Irish waistcoat is out. Too bright and exciting. Looking over the closet, I find I have a lot of exciting clothing. A wardrobe fit for a peacock.

Mr. Ryan did not say anything about a White Hunter and a gunbearer. I guess they will issue those at the club.

Anyway, it is bright and exciting to get such mail. Did you know that when an elephant flaps his ears, it means he is happy and will not charge? All of us club members know that. Yes, indeed we do.

County Farm Chiefs Study Problem Of Insect Damage

By Glenn Kreuscher
Staff Farm Writer

Lancaster County agricultural officials were told at their quarterly meeting Tuesday that Nebraska suffers a $70 to $100 million loss each year from insects.

Robert E. Roselle, extension entomologist, University of Nebraska, who discussed insect damage to state crops, told officials that we have a million distinct species of insects that constantly subject us to losses and miseries.

Roselle told the group that Nebraska farmers spent $2 million for control of corn root worm alone last year.

Profits Cut

In describing yield loss Roselle said, "Many times we get good yields and are satisfied but insect damage has probably taken 10 to 15 bushels that we would have otherwise harvested. This, multiplied by thousands of acres, takes a huge annual toll from farmer profits."

Reportedly the only county in the state with a quarterly meeting designed to report the activities of extension, farm program offices and farm organizations, the Lancaster County group is now in its 3rd year of comparing progress reports and future plans on a regular basis.

Carl G. Nelson of Raymond reported that the Lancaster County Weed Control Assn. has increased its rates for cleaning seed and spraying farms to meet increased costs of operation.

The Soil Conservation Service advised farmers that future construction of dams under government cost-sharing would be subject to a new requirement where 24-inch or larger tubing was installed. Government requirements now call for tubes of this size to be packed with dirt with an air hammer.

Added Cost

This SCS reports will raise costs of dam building to farmers and it was suggested that the additional requirement be included in cost-sharing practices.

ASC officials reported that corn is still carrying too much moisture to meet storage requirements for government sealed grain.

It was the opinion of the group that wet corn still posed the most serious county-wide problem.

Reports were also made to the group by officials representing the Extension Service, Farmers Union and Farm and Home Administration.

Lincoln General Hosts Area Cancer Seminar

The Cancer Committee of the Nebraska State Medical Assn. will sponsor a "Cancer Seminar" for all area physicians at Lincoln General Hospital Wednesday morning.

Dr. J. Garrett Allen, professor and executive head of the department of surgery at Stanford University School of Medicine, and Dr. Daniel Miller, associate surgeon in charge of the ear, nose and throat tumor clinic at Massachusetts General Hospital, are guest lecturers.

Bob Says He'll Seek New Method For Taxing Stock

Grand Island — Democratic gubernatorial candidate Robert Conrad said Tuesday he would "actively support legislation to remove the inequities from livestock assessments."

The administrative assistant to Gov. Ralph Brooks was here on the concluding day of a two-day tour of Nebraska which took him into 20 communities.

Conrad noted that many suggestions have crossed his desk regarding the assessments of livestock, "and each one is being carefully considered so that if I am elected to serve the people of the state, I can reflect their thinking correctly in seeking a new method for taxing stock."

On the Interstate, Conrad said: "Work is progressing rapidly and we hope to see dirt flying between Grand Island and Kearney in the late part of the third quarter of this year."

Norden Labs Charged With Law Violation

Norden Laboratories of Lincoln has been charged in U.S. District Court with violating federal laws regulating the handling of anti-hog cholera serum.

The federal information alleges the defendant violated the federal code and a U.S. Department of Agriculture order on April 7, 1959, by failing to have in inventory a reserve supply of the serum equivalent to 40% of the previous year's sales.

Norden Laboratories is alleged to be a manufacturer and handler of the serum within the meaning of the federal code.

Ralph's Flu Battle Said Nearly Over

Gov. Ralph G. Brooks said Tuesday he is having a bout with the flu, but is nearly over it.

The Governor, in his office the second day after 5 weeks absence due to health problems, said he went home with a high temperature late Monday.

He visited his doctor Tuesday morning, and his temperature had dropped back down to near normal. He said he may have caught the bug from Mrs. Brooks.

Gov. Brooks said he still had no announcement to make regarding his campaign for the Democratic nomination for the U.S. Senate, but he showed newsmen a campaign pamphlet, just received from the printers.

The brochure lists a 30-point record compiled during his 1959-60 administration as Governor.

Rioting Still Goes On In South Korea City

Masan, Korea (UPI) —National police early Wednesday put down a new outbreak of anti-government rioting after 3,000 demonstrators seized and wrecked two fire trucks sent to douse them with water.

Strong police measures and a 7 p.m. curfew had dispersed most of a crowd of 10,000 anti-government demonstrators Tuesday night. But 3,000 remained on the streets and attacked government buildings with stones and spears for the second consecutive night.

Many demanded President Syngman Rhee resign.

In Seoul, National Police Director Cho In Koo announced that police no longer would tolerate anti-government demonstrations and that they would be crushed by mobile police forces. He already had placed the 36,000-man national force on a standby alert for fear the rioting would spread to other South Korean cities.

Three persons have been killed, at least 22 injured and dozens arrested in riots protesting the March 15 election of Rhee, who was unopposed.

Rail Commission Sets Hearing

The State Railway Commission set a hearing for May 3 at Virginia to hear an application by the Diller Telephone Company of Diller for approval of its purchase of the Virginia Cooperative Telephone Company of Virginia and to establish a schedule of rates.

A hearing was set for April 18 at Lincoln on an application by the Red Ball Transfer Company of Omaha to issue a note and chattel mortgage in a sum not to exceed $500,000.

NU Regents To Meet Wednesday In Omaha

The University of Nebraska's Board of Regents will meet on the College of Medicine campus in Omaha Wednesday at 2:30 p.m.

Among the items on the agenda are the 1959-60 University budget, promotion, graduate faculty appointments, acceptance of bids for remodeling of Nebraska Hall and quarters for the department of veterinary science, and acceptance of training and research grants.

Ike Administration Fooling Nation, Adlai Asserts

By Arthur Edson
Charlottesville, Va. (AP) — Adlai Stevenson claimed Tuesday night the Eisenhower administration has practiced deception and "government by concealment."

"Our own leaders," Stevenson said, "have deceived us by underrating the magnitude of the crisis."

The man who ran for president twice against Dwight D. Eisenhower, and lost both times, still gave no hint that he would like to head the Democratic ticket again this fall.

But he jabbed away not only at Eisenhower, but also at Vice President Nixon. He looked like a politician eager to keep in fighting trim.

Latin Return

In his speech for Founder's Day at the University of Virginia, his first address since he returned from a two months' trip to South America, Stevenson said:

"Too often our leadership has been hesitant and half-hearted, and has concealed from us the nature and dimensions of the crisis."

Government by concealment, by soothing assurances rather than candid communication, cannot be long tolerated if our system is to endure."

As recently as 1956, Stevenson said, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was saying that communism is "a gigantic failure."

And Stevenson continued, "when some of our most distinguished citizens and generals express concern about the obvious fact that our defenses are not strong as they were, the President becomes angry, Mr. Nixon considers that it undermines our security, and the Republican national chairman contributes a sarcastic remark about their 'paper hats and wooden swords.'"

Stevenson had a long list of questions he said the people have a right to know about. These included:

"Why we have lost our once unquestioned military superiority."

"Why—nearly a century after the 14th and 15th Amendments—all of our citizens have still not been guaranteed the right to vote."

"Why we have failed to win the billions of impatient people in Asia, Africa and Latin America."

"Why we spent more money last year on tranquilizers than on space exploration."

"Our own leaders have deceived us by underrating the magnitude of the crisis," Stevenson said, "but haven't we, as a people, also deceived ourselves?"

"The harsh verdict of history will be that our nation was quiescent and complacent, content with illusions; that we failed to insist, through our press and other agencies of opinion, that all the avenues of truth be kept open."

Woman, 69, Charged In Murder Plot

San Francisco (AP) — A 69-year-old retired school teacher was charged Tuesday with soliciting the murder of her former son-in-law.

MRS. SIDELINGER . . . Following Arrest

"This is all so silly," protested Henrietta Sidelinger. The gray-haired grandmother protested from her jail cell that she was just gathering data for a detective story and "when I get out of here I'm going to finish the thriller."

She said her onetime son-in-law, Alfred Britton Jr., San Jose attorney, would not be the corpse in her fiction. She suggested he "probably thinks this all so very, very funny."

Police didn't think it was funny. They said they listened to her offering $2,000 to Bruce Benner, 20-year-old San Francisco student, to kill Britton. They said she proposed to point out her son-in-law and supply the death weapon, saying Britton had disrupted the lives of her daughter, Diana, and their 3 children.

Police Inspector Frank Gibeau said two 7.65 millimeter shells were found in her purse. So were a map of the area around Britton's home and a rough sketch of his house.

Gibeau said this, plus Benner's report, would sustain the charge. Conviction carries a maximum sentence of 5 years in prison and a fine of $5,000.

Benner went to police after Mrs. Sidelinger answered his want ad for odd jobs to help finance a trip to Europe. Police installed a tape recorder in Benner's home and Monday night listened in as the two talked.

STATE MONEY BALANCE UP

Nebraska had a $44,160,662 balance on March 31, State Treasurer Richard Larsen reported.

This compares to a Feb. 29 balance of $42,188,894.

Almost half, or $20,500,000, of the March 31 balance is made up of investments in U.S. securities.

Receipts for the month amounted to $17,223,510 while warrants paid out totaled $15,093,760.

The property tax-supported general fund had a March 31 balance of $3,069,107 compared to a Feb. 29 balance of $4,145,846. Cash receipts for the month were $2,985,340 while warrants paid totaled $4,062,069.

Lincoln Polio Victim Wins Gov.'s Award For Courage

The Governor's Award, conferred upon the individual who has made the most progress in overcoming a serious disability, has been presented to Andrew M. Wuster of Lincoln.

A graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan University, Wuster, 25, is a victim of poliomyelitis.

Employed by the Midwest Life Insurance Co. for nearly 3 years, Wuster has received steady increases in both responsibilities and salary since he began his employment.

Reached Goal

The employment security division of the Nebraska Department of Labor described Wuster as having shown determination to overcome any handicaps that polio has placed in his way, and that he has "succeeded rapidly and cheerfully in accomplishing this goal."

The company also was commended for showing "great foresight in properly placing him when he was first hired and in promoting him to jobs which are fully within his capabilities."

Wuster is married and has two daughters.

Ike Has Day Of Work-Play

Augusta, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower got in a bit of business and another round of golf Tuesday. The business included another "I shall go to Korea" announcement.

Brig. Gen. Andrew J. Goodpaster, White House staff secretary, joined Eisenhower on the second day of his vacation at the Augusta National Golf Club.

Goodpaster flew down from Washington with some of the paper work a President never escapes. And he, too, had designs of golf on a perfect spring day.

Dr. Gass Heads Math At DePauw

Dr. Clinton B. Gass, former head of the department of mathematics at Nebraska Wesleyan University, has been named head of the mathematics department and astronomy department at DePauw University in Greencastle, Ind.

Dr. Gass resigned from his position at Wesleyan in 1954 to become a member of the faculty in mathematics at DePauw.

Dr. Gass joined the Wesleyan staff in 1943. During his 11 year tenure, he also served as dean of men.

Governor Says Flood Meet Open

Gov. Ralph G. Brooks said Tuesday that every one interested in flood control in Nebraska is invited to his May 3 meeting in the Capitol — no special invitations have been or will be sent out.

The Governor commented on a report that Gerald Schwartz of Omaha, Democratic party publicity man, is recommending that Republican Rep. Glenn Cunningham of Omaha be invited to the meeting.

Gov. Brooks, in his second day at the office following 5 weeks in the hospital and at home, said he has received no rush request from Schwartz, who is candidate for the Democratic nomination for the race for Cunningham's seat.

The Governor called the meeting to promote and coordinate flood control projects in order to help prevent damaging floods such as the one that parts of Nebraska have recently experienced.

The first Atlantic cable was laid in 1858, but became useless about two months later due to failure of its electric insulation.

Commissioners Used Pipeline Company Plane, FPC Chief Admits

The Lincoln Star 11
Wednesday, April 13, 1960

Washington (AP) — Chairman Jerome K. Kuykendall confirmed Tuesday night he and two other federal power commissioners flew to Louisiana last month in the private plane of a gas pipeline company which has rate increases pending before the commission.

"I do not apologize at all," Kuykendall said. "We went to give aid and comfort to the family of a dear friend." The flight to Shreveport was to attend the funeral of Commissioner John B. Hussey, who died March 17. Meanwhile, a detailed House investigation of private talks between Thomas (Tommy the Cork) Corcoran and federal power commissioners was ordered after a natural gas company executive said lawyer Corcoran was ordered to make the contacts.

Probe Promised
Chairman Oren Harris (D-Ark) said the staff of his Legislative Oversight Committee had been ordered to "fully develop all the facts" in preparation for hearings to start May 2.

Kuykendall said he and Commissioners Arthur Kline and Frederick Stueck accepted the use of the private plane owned by United Gas Pipeline Co. of Shreveport because a quick check showed they would not be about to obtain commercial connections "in time to be there for the rosary service Friday night."

"If I had to do it over again, I'd do the same thing," he added.

United Gas is the nation's largest pipeline company, according to FPC statistics ranking firms by volume of gas carried. Since October, 1955, United Gas has filed a series of 6 requests for rate increases totaling $45 million. The latest was filed March 11, seeking $11,413,000 in annual rate hikes.

Kuykendall and the other commissioners already have confirmed reports they conversed with Corcoran. All 3 have testified before the Legislative Oversight subcommittee.

In view of the fuller inquiry, Harris called off a session, set for Thursday, at which the subcommittee had planned to hear explanations from FPC Vice Chairman Arthur Kline and member William R. Connoles, at their request. They have denied any impropriety in their acknowledged talks with Corcoran, a powerful figure in the New Deal era.

An invitation had been extended to Corcoran, too, and Harris said the Washington lawyer had replied he would be glad to testify at the hearing originally planned for Thursday.

Pipeline Promoted
At issue are conversations Corcoran reportedly had with Kline, Connoles and Kuykendall last year while the commission was deciding whether to grant an application by a subsidiary of the Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. Corcoran represented the firm.

The subsidiary, midwestern Gas Transmission Co., sought permission to build a $52 million pipeline to import natural gas from Canada. Midwestern wanted the FPC to allow a 7% return on its investment, but when the FPC granted the pipeline permit last Oct. 31 it left the return rate open for the time being.

Harris said he ordered the fuller probe because of a statement last week by Gardiner Symonds, board chairman of both Tennessee and Midwestern.

Symonds said then that Corcoran had been instructed to contact the FPC members and that such action was in compliance with FPC practice. The gas company official said there was "no breach of law."

The matter came to light last month when Kuykendall told the subcommittee he had talked to Corcoran privately twice while the Midwestern case was under consideration. The chairman said Corcoran urged the firm be granted a 7% return.

As Kline and Connoles did later, Kuykendall denied there was anything improper about the conversations. Corcoran has made no public statement.

Boy Scout Salesmen Set To Kick Off 'Big Show'

A salesman may be knocking on your door between Wednesday and May 20, but he probably won't be old enough to vote. He'll be a Cub, Boy or Explorer Scout, properly uniformed, selling tickets to the Boy Scout Exposition to be held May 20 and 21 on the State Fair Grounds.

A banquet at the Lincoln Hotel Tuesday kicked off a drive to sell 40,000 tickets to the exposition. Speakers and ticket-drive organizers were members of the Executive Club.

Held every other year, the exposition will consist of about 50 booths in which Scouts will demonstrate workings of their displays. The exhibits will show Scout activities, projects and ideals.

Most of the proceeds will be spent on the area's two Scout camps in Lincoln and the cost of putting on the exposition and 25% will return to Scout units as commissions.

Dear Abby-- Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem is making me ill and I can't find a solution. I have a terrible inferiority complex. At PTA meetings I perspire and tremble and get splitting headaches, because I'm afraid I might have to say something.

I have read tons of books and articles on how to overcome my complex but nothing helps. I know why I feel as I do, too. When I was little, we were so poor I was sent upstairs to hide because I was so thin and had no shoes.

I don't want our four children to suffer from an inferiority complex the way I do, but I can see them following in my footsteps. (They won't join this or go there because they feel they aren't wanted.)

Don't suggest prayer. I've had ten years of that. I am not stupid, I just feel stupid. INFERIORITY COMPLEX

DEAR COMPLEX: Many people convince themselves that they are suffering from an "inferiority complex" when quite the opposite is true. What makes you think that the whole world is looking at you? No one expects you to be eloquent or brilliant at a PTA meeting. Relax! Make up your mind that you are what you are and it is good enough for anyone you meet. Forget about yourself and the impression you are making and you will probably discover a very acceptable and pleasant personality underneath.

DEAR ABBY: A man who does a lot of business with my husband comes to our home when he is in town. He always has a cigar stuck in his face and he keeps lighting it and lighting it. After he has gone, the odor of the cigar smoke clings to my draperies for days. Don't you think my husband ought to tell him how much it bothers me?

ANNOYED: Is the man buying or selling?

DEAR ABBY: Why does a girl have to choose between having boy friends and girl friends? Last year I was popular with the girls and the boys hated me. This year I am popular with the boys and the girls hate me.

SEE SAW: The world is full of girls who

ASK— Dorothy Draper

Have you thought of decorating with fruit? Most people think of using fruit as a decoration only at Christmas time, but it's the freshest and most inexpensive way I know of getting a special color in the spot it's needed most.

To break up the monotony of a charcoal gray, scarlet and black color scheme (with white walls) a friend of mine got four inexpensive picture frames and pasted in Chinese yellow mats, then cut out some very intriguing old prints and pasted those on the mats. The result was delightful but she needed something yellow on the opposite side of the room to balance that yellow spot of color. Being ingenious, she piled an emerald-green glass bowl with fresh yellow lemons and tucked in a few lemon leaves. It did the trick!

A wooden salad bowl brimming with a grapefruit and oranges, a white tureen filled with juicy red apples, a basket of avocado pears and purple plums, a copper pot with Golden Delicious apples and a dripping bunch of grapes... try these for a splash of color.

Mrs. K.L.G. asks: "What color should we paint the walls of an Early American living room and dining room? We have beige rugs and a lovely new beige and brown tweed sofa. (Tables are all brown maple.) We need some color in drapes, walls and chairs. I am planning to get more furniture soon. I really am anxious to make it attractive. What do you suggest?"

Dear Mrs. K.L.G.: I would like to see your walls a crisp white-white. Be sure—no off-white shade. I'd have draperies in a bold print—wood-brown and luscious tangerine on a white background. Two identical chairs in tangerine. Or, if you are allergic to orange, a stringent lemon-peel yellow would pep up your browns and beiges. And get some shine in there with brass accessories.

Mrs. G.A.D. asks: "We are redecorating our kitchen. The ceiling is oyster, the top half of walls are sunshine yellow, the bottom half dawn, or light gray, the woodwork, slate gray. Would like your help as to what kind of material and color curtains you would suggest?"

Dear Mrs. G.A.D.: A strong sunshine yellow cotton would tie up your color scheme in a neat package.

ADCOCK'S RAPID RISE FOR BRAVES

Milwaukee Rips Pirates By 4-3

... BUCCOS' FACE IS LOSER

Milwaukee (A)—A towering two-run homer by Joe Adcock in the 8th inning boosted Milwaukee's Braves to a 4-3 victory over Pittsburgh Tuesday. Veteran Lew Burdette came out of the bullpen to cut short a late bid by the Pirates in a National League opener.

Adcock picked out the first pitch by Pittsburgh relief specialist Elroy Face and sent the ball soaring over the right field fence to score Hank Aaron ahead of him as a partisan crowd of 39,888 roared approval.

The Pirates, held scoreless for 7 innings by Warren Spahn, caught up with the southpaw ace in the top of the 8th to tie the score at 2-2. That set the stage for Adcock's dramatic blow.

Don McMahon, who relieved Spahn in the 8th, was pounded but managed to escape further damage in the inning.

Gino Cimoli led off the 9th with a double to right but had to remain at second as Eddie Mathews went far to

Needs 3 Pitches
When Hal Smith followed with a long double to deep center the Braves called upon Burdette, 33-year-old right-hander with a 21-15 record last year.

Burdette needed only 3 pitches to get pinchhitter Rocky Nelson and Bob Skinner on easy infield outs.

Aaron beat out a hit to 3rd to lead off the 8th and came home as Adcock—a right-handed slugger with 25 homers in 1959—hoisted his game winning drive to the opposite field.

The victory was credited to McMahon.

POINT BLANK

By Don Bryant

Sports Editor, The Star

Sunshine Bowling Boom

Hollywood, Fla.—This area is best known for sunshine, boating, swimming, deep sea fishing, baseball and a thousand other outdoor activities.

But, believe it or not, there's a heavy emphasis on the same sport that is booming in Lincoln—bowling.

The top league in Miami is the Metropolitan All-Star League, a Monday night affair at the Hialeah Lanes.

Here's a sample of this loop's caliber: To date there have been 3 teams series of 3,300 and 4 team 3,200 series; 30 bowlers have posted 700 series; 14 bowlers carry better than 200 averages and 32 are above 190.

Miami gals like their bowling too, as evidenced by the fact that 304 teams are currently battling in the city tournament.

High School Kegling?

There's even some agitation for bowling to become a high school sport.

Lou Morello, athletic director of Hollywood McArthur High, told a local scribe there is "little or no agitation on the part of the Florida High School Activities Association" for bowling, but he feels prep bowling would be a good idea.

Reasons? Good for the youngster who lacks speed, agility or brawn for major sports, and the fact that bowling would be less of a financial strain on the school's treasury.

Director Morello, of course, is banking on the schools not deciding it is necessary to build their own alleys.

Who Wants Bryant?

One of the first signs I saw after deplaning at Miami's International Airport was one which read:

"The right man is Bryant." Then I saw another: "Bryant is a winner." And a 3rd "Bryant is the best choice."

Since I hardly expected such a welcome, I checked and found out that the "right man" in this case is Fletcher Bryant, currently leading—say the pollsters—in the Florida governor's race.

Winners Goof, Too

Even "winners" are prone to goof once in a while. Miami columnist Jack Bell tells a dandy on candidate Bryant.

It seems a fellow walked up to the aspiring candidate, looked him in the eye, and said "Paul S. Harwood."

"Why certainly, hello, Paul," responded Bryant. But he responded the wrong way.

"Nuts," growled the fellow. "I'm not Paul. Remember, we were shipmates on the Paul S. Harwood in World War II."

Laughs On Bremser

Mention of scribe Bell always brings a chuckle from those of us in the Nebraska press-radio delegation that covered the Orange Bowl in 1954, particularly Omaha sportscaster Lyell Bremser.

Bell invited us out to his beautiful home—which included a sunken garden in the living room—for a backyard cookout and party. Several movie stars were also on hand to enjoy the tremendous food.

But the highlight of the evening came when Bell asked Bremser to join him on his radio show. Bremser agreed and climbed into Bell's Jaguar sports car.

Scribe Jack, who lost an arm years ago, never batted an eye as he backed out of the driveway.

One Arm Is Enough

Then, he put the gas pedal to the floor, took his only hand off the wheel, shifted gears—and tore off down the road like a jet.

The sudden start—particularly since the wheel was unattended—was a severe jolt to Bremser and he almost flew out of the car.

The last we saw, Lyell was hanging on for all he was worth, and several of us thought we heard him screaming as the car roared around a curve and disappeared.

When Lyell returned to the Bell home following the broadcast, he was shaken, pale and stuttering.

"Oh, Mother," he groaned. "What a ride that was. Jack can do more things with one arm than most of us can do with two. But no more Jaguar rides, please."

Homers Haul Redlegs Past Phillies By 9-4

Cincinnati (A)—Home run blasts by Roy McMillan and rookie Tony Gonzalez backed up brilliant relief pitching by Jim O'Toole as Cincinnati's Reds opened with a 9-4 victory over Philadelphia's Phillies Tuesday.

A crowd of 30,075 sat in 75-degree temperatures under cloudless skies for the National League opener as the Reds arose from a 4-run deficit.

McMillan, who's never hit more than 9 home runs in a season, drove in 3 tallies with his homer and brought another home later via a sacrifice fly.

Gonzalez got a single in addition to his homer and drove in two runs. He also made a great running one-handed catch against the right field bleacher wall.

O'Toole, who pitched 6 innings, got credit for the victory. He allowed two hits before yielding to a pinch hitter in the 8th.

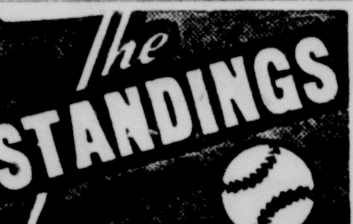

Robin Roberts, the first of 4 Phil pitchers, was saddled with the loss.

Jim Brosnan was never out of trouble in his brief stint. Two walks and a double by Ed Bouchee awarded the Phils two runs in the first inning, and they got two more in the second on 3 hits and a stolen base.

—RUNNERUP MALCOLM HAS TOP INDIVIDUAL PERFORMER IN MEET—

Waverly Cops MUDECAS

Waverly racked up a clear-cut margin Tuesday while snaring the MUDECAS track crown at Nebraska Wesleyan.

David Shepherd, who won the 880, was the only individual winner for the champions, but second and 3rd-place finishes were valuable in amassing the winning total.

The Vikings put the frosting on the cake with a pair of victories in the mile and 880 relays.

Malcolm produced the afternoon's top performer.

Don Katt won the discus, shotput, high hurdles and high jump. The Malcolm ace also placed in the broad jump and the low hurdles.

He finished second in both the latter events, producing 32 of Malcolm's 45 points.

Elmer Behring of Malcolm logged an easy victory in the mile run when he covered the distance in 5:03.2, zipping the last lap and putting plenty of distance between himself and second place finisher Bob Zook of Waverly.

Eagle won the 1959 crown but did not defend.

Katt's winning toss in the shotput was a creditable 45-11.

IN THE FIELD
Discus—1. Don Katt, Malcolm, 129-5; 2. Dennis Ford, Waverly, 124-0; 3. Larry Duensing, Malcolm, 123-2; 4. Larry Brandt, Waverly, 118-8; 5. Don Schmidt, Sterling, 108-14.

Broad Jump—1. Wendell Ramsey, Sprague-Martell, 19-3; 2. Katt, Malcolm, 18-7; 3. Larry Brandt, Waverly, 18-4; 4. Gary Osseken, Walton, 17-10; 5. Jim Wilcox, Douglas, 17-8.

Midland Meet Records Topple

Lincoln Star Special
Fremont—All but 3 records fell in 2 classes as Schuyler and Decatur won Class III and IV titles in the Midland Relays here.

Some 60 teams competed in the first day of the huge affair, limited to smaller schools Tuesday. Several state colleges and larger high schools gather for afternoon-night action today.

Schuyler defended its championship while picking up victories from shot putter Frank Sobota and Dave Groulik in the broad jump.

Double Class III winners were Bill Schulz of Pierce, who ran the hurdles in 15.5 and 21.7, and David City

Among the best marks was a 4-46 mile by Larry Toothaker of Plattsmouth.

In Class IV, outstanding work by Paul Brewer of Decatur edged Polk's great Roger er Merchant for top honors. Merchant won the 100 in 10.4, the 220 at 23.3, and the broad jump with a 20-8 1/4 leap.

But Brewer clipped off wins in both hurdles and tied with brother Jon in the pole vault to more than match the Polk flyer.

Ted Engelbart of Leigh had one of the better new Class IV records with a discus throw of 144-3 1/4.

Only the shot put and mile records failed to fall to the onslaught of 33 small schools in Class IV.

Sad Sam Makes SF Park Debut Happy

...Toothpick And Cepeda Drop Cardinals By 3-1

San Francisco (A)—Sad Sam Jones gave the 15-million dollar Candlestick Park a happy inaugural Tuesday while setting down St. Louis on 3 hits as the San Francisco Giants won their opener 3-1.

Big Orlando Cepeda crashed a triple and a single his first two times at bat, knocking in all 3 San Francisco runs before a sellout crowd of 42,269.

Each hit came off the first pitch to him by Larry Jackson, Cardinal righthander charged with the loss.

Sunny but windy weather prevailed in the sparkling new stadium by the bay. Vice President Richard M. Nixon described it as, "the finest baseball park in America."

Notables On Hand
Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Baseball Commissioner Ford

Frick and the presidents of both major leagues were among the notables witnessing the National League opener.

The only run off Jones came on a home run in the 5th by Leon Wagner.

Jones, the toothpick-chewing righthander, had given up a single to Bill White in the first and then put down the next 11 Cardinals in a row.

Jones, who won 21 while losing 15 last season, walked just one. He struck out 3 and allowed but one hit in the last 4 innings, another single by White.

Husker Swats Prevail

Tulsa, Okla. (AP)—Nebraska blasted 5 wind-blown home runs and rolled to an easy 16-2 victory Tuesday over Tulsa while making a sweep of a two-game series at New-block Park.

Jerry Harris led off the Cornhusker spree in the 5th, and in the same inning Phil Barth slammed a 3-run clout. Eli Churchich and Dick Becher each homered in the 6th, and Dick Nelson rapped a round-tripper in the 9th.

Tulsa's lone runs came on a homer by Dan Porter behind Bennie Davis' single in the first.

Les Frick absorbed most of the damage, allowing 11 runs in the 5 innings he worked.

Harry Tolly, in a fine relief stint for Nebraska, allowed only one hit over the final 4 innings.

Martin At New High In Vault

... HUSKERS FAIL IN MEET

Norman, Okla. (AP)—Pole vaulter J. D. Martin, University of Oklahoma junior, cleared the cross bar at a world's record 15 feet 9 3/4 inches Tuesday—but there was doubt about the mark's being accepted.

Martin eclipsed both indoor and outdoor pole vault records in a quadrangular track meet won by host Oklahoma with 55 points. Illinois was second at 49, Oklahoma State had 33 and Nebraska 26.

Martin, who earlier this year cleared 15-7 1/4 at the Big 8 Conference indoor meet, made it on his first try.

Later he tried 16 feet even and almost cleared it on the second of 3 attempts. He didn't miss all day until the bar was at 16 feet.

The mark will be submitted as a world's record. However, Oklahoma track coach Bill Carroll explained the crossbar was set with one end inside the upright and the other end out because the 20 to 30 mile an hour winds threatened to blow the bar off.

The pegs were taped, instead of being left clean and smooth, for the same reason.

Martin's feat, before some 500 fans at the end of the meet, overshadowed a tremendous afternoon by Illinois' Del Coleman.

Nebraska's only strong showing was in the javelin, where Al Roots, Howard Naylor and Tony Davis swept the first 3 spots. Roots' winning toss was 211-11.

Joe American Horse, with a second in the two-mile, was the only other Husker to get into the top two positions.

Nebraskans, Ex-Lincoln Players Hot As A's Win

Another Cornhusker, Russ Snyder of Oak, saw center field defensive action for Kansas City in the last two innings and singled off Oriole reliever Wes Stock in the 9th.

Hall was at his best, performing in the same manner that made him a Sherman Field favorite during Bill Burwell's 1955 tenure.

The big righthander, was a master control artist—he's walked only two in his last 27 innings of spring work—as he blanked the Orioles.

Dick dispatched the Orioles in order until one was out in the 4th and little Albie Pearson drilled a single to right.

Walks Only One
Only other hits off Hall were a single by Gus Triandos in the 5th, a double by Pearson in the 6th and pinchhitter Bob Boyd's single in the 8th.

Dick whiffed 3 and issued only one walk, that to former Western Leaguer Jim Gentile in the 7th.

The former Chief also got one of the 11 hits off veteran knuckler Wilhelm, a 6th-inning double.

Cerv was the top sticker for the Athletics, going 3-for-4 including his first inning round-tripper.

Hamlin Gets Pair
He singled to center in the 5th and smashed a drive through the box in the 8th.

Hamlin singled in the 3rd and 5th, the latter time scoring on an infield out and ex-Yankee Norm Siebern's single.

While Hansen was blanked at the plate by Hall, the Oxford native turned in a sparkling glove job with one put-out and 4 assists.

BIG WALLEYES DELIGHT ANGLERS

Tackle-busting walleyes big enough to threaten the state record are being taken from the Sutherland-North Platte-Brady canal systems, the Nebraska Game Commission reported Tuesday.

Milford Carlson of Gothenburg caught a walleye weighing 12 pounds two ounces in the Jeffery powerhouse canal near Brady.

Ernest Earney of North Platte, fishing in the Sutherland canal, took an 11-pound 4-ounce walleye and 4 others weighing 10 pounds.

Clair Nelson, also of North Platte, pulled in a 10-pound two-ounce walleye from the Sioux Look out check station.

Black bass are also biting below the checks on the canals, but white bass and crappie are not yet stirring, according to district law enforcement Supervisor Sam Grasmick.

Hruska Joins In Partisan Wrangle Over Drug Inquiry

.. Iowa Medical Man Has Praise And Criticism For Firms

By Jerry T. Baulch
Washington (AP) — The witness sat for two hours saying nothing Tuesday as Democratic and Republican senators argued bitterly over whether their subcommittee is conducting a fair investigation into drug prices.
The new wrangling — continuation of a row that has been going on for months — was touched off by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) and Roman L. Hruska (R-Neb.) who called the inquiry an inquisition.
Chairman Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) retorted that “unless it was a whitewash” nothing in the investigation would please the two GOP senators.

“As long as I’m chairman, there is not going to be any whitewash,” Kefauver said.
Republicans Deny It
Dirksen and Hruska insisted they were not seeking a whitewash.
The long-silent witness, Dr. William Bean of the State University of Iowa Medical School staff, didn’t seem to mind waiting, however.
Finally Bean read his statement charging that some big medical societies are so beholden to some free-spending drug manufacturers they won’t tolerate criticism of the firms’ products.

Bean said some of the medicines now being put on the market are dangerous and deplorable. Criticizing what he called short cuts in clinical trials of some preparations in the race to be first on the market with something new, he said:
“There have been a few tragedies and other near misses.”

Missile Toting AF Jet Makes Record Flight

Eglin AFB Fla. (AP) — A Strategic Air Command B52G jet bomber flew over the North Pole with two “Hound Dog Missiles,” then returned and fired one over the Cape Canaveral Atlantic test range after a 10,800 mile nonstop flight.
The Air Force said the successful launching climaxed the 22-hour flight. The missile flew several hundred miles on a pre-set course. It impacted downrange in the Atlantic.
The air crew made extensive tests of the bomber and missile guidance systems in temperatures as low as 75 degrees below zero while flying high above the polar ice cap.
It was the longest flight made by a B52G carrying the air-to-ground missile.
Following the launching over Canaveral, the aircraft returned to Eglin with one of the missiles still in carrying position beneath its wing.
The 8-jet Boeing bomber left Eglin shortly after noon Monday and was refueled over the polar cap by KC135 jet tankers from Westover AFB, Mass.

Says Folks Have Some Tax Ideas

Holdrege — Republican gubernatorial candidate Mrs. Hazel Abel suggested Tuesday that “we must find out from taxpayers themselves how they feel about the so-called broadening of the tax base.”
Mrs. Abel was in Holdrege for a series of 4 public appearances.
“Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer may have definite ideas as to how they want to be taxed — ideas which may not even have been thought of yet.”

“And, when the majority of the taxpayers have stated definitely how they want to be taxed, whether it be property, sales, state income tax, or what not, I will be happy to abide by their decision.”

Big Progress Is Predicted On Interstate

Steve Gilbert, Nebraska engineer in charge of the Interstate Highway program, said Tuesday that “great progress” will be made in construction this summer—if the weather stays dry.
Gilbert said there is a large amount of Interstate work already under contract, and bids will be let in May to close the gap between Lincoln and Omaha and to build another segment of Route 80 skirting the south edge of the Omaha area.
It will mean a “big job” for the contractors, but he said he was hopeful they would “hit the ball” with a maximum effort.
He was also hopeful the weather would be good in order to avoid a repetition of last year, when much work bogged down because of rains.

Road Lab To Aid In Checking Of Cement Products

The State Highway Department laboratory is one of 6 state and 6 federal laboratories in the nation to be selected by the U.S. Bureau of Standards to participate in its cement reference sample program.
The results of testing and grading of cement products in the Nebraska laboratory will be one of 12 to be used in computing the average value to be used in each test by the U.S. Bureau of Standards.
The U.S. Bureau of Standards said the Nebraska laboratory was one of the state laboratories selected because “of their superior performance in the previous program.”

What's that 3rd pump doing at Conoco?

Answer: to provide you with the right gasoline power at the right price for your car! Which Conoco grade should you use? How can you tell? Conoco answers these and other 3-grade questions below.

Q. Why is Conoco offering a choice of 3 grades of gasoline?

A. To meet the power needs of today's wide range of cars. Only with 3 grades can you be sure of no wasted octane, no wasted money . . . paying only for power your car needs.

Q. How can I tell which Conoco grade is for me?

A. Easy. Listen to your car! Start with a tankful of Premium . . . and listen. If it doesn't knock, you may be able to use Regular. If it does knock on Premium, step up to Super Premium. If you're still not sure, ask your Conoco Dealer.

Q. What is this new Super Premium gasoline, anyway?

A. It's Conoco's highest octane gasoline (101 plus!), especially made for today's top-horsepower, top-compression cars.

Q. My car works fine on Premium. Why use Super Premium?

A. Don't! If your engine doesn't knock on Premium, save your money! Fact is, Conoco's new Premium saves you money compared with other premiums.

Now! Pick your power—and save—with 3 grades of Conoco Gasoline. Conoco Super Premium with TCP⁺ plus combines 101 plus octane with TCP⁺ plus power-booster. Conoco Premium with TCP⁺ plus saves you money compared with other premiums. Conoco Regular offers smooth performance, generous mileage, for all cars designed to run on regular.

Q. Which of Conoco's gasolines have TCP⁺ plus?

A. Both Conoco Super Premium and Conoco Premium have this additive . . . the greatest gasoline development in 31 years. We don't put it in Conoco Regular, because low-compression cars don't need TCP⁺ plus for efficient operation.

Q. Just what is TCP?

A. Tri-Cresyl-Phosphate . . . used to neutralize spark plug deposits, to improve spark plug life and reduce preignition.

Q. What's the plus in TCP⁺ stand for?

A. For Conoco 405⁺—a special additive that oil-plates rings, valves and cylinders with a tough shield of lubricant. By improving piston ring seal, it assures higher compression, engine power, and economy.

Q. My car used to run fine on Regular, but now needs Premium. Why?

A. As cars get older, carbon deposits build up. This increases engine compression ratio and the need for a better gasoline, that is, a gas with higher octane. When octane is too low, your engine knocks.

Q. Will high-octane gasolines such as Super Premium and Premium burn out my valves quicker?

A. Just the opposite! A knock-free engine actually runs cooler!

Q. Are all Conoco stations in my neighborhood featuring 3 grades of gasoline?

A. Not yet. All 3 grades are available only at Conoco Stations displaying this sign.

Delayed Farm Work Picks Up Momentum

. . . In West Area, But Progress Slow In East

Continued clear weather should bring a burst of field activity on Nebraska farms, government crop observers reported Tuesday.

Less than 5% of oats and barley acreage have been planted over the state, in contrast with the approximately 70% normally seeded gains than during recent weeks.

Shipments of feeder cattle and calves into Nebraska during March totaled 50,000 head, down 37% from last year.

Moisture received throughout Nebraska during the past week was limited to .10 at North Platte.

Accumulated precipitation this growing season by districts from April 1 as compared to longtime averages includes:

Northwest—.69 inches (1960); .48 inches (normal).
North Central—.79; .48.
Northeast—.46; .56.
Central—.13; .48.
East Central—.94; .51.
Southwest—.07; .44.
South Central—.11; .51.
Southeast—.36; .37.

Nebraska News

at this time, according to the weekly crop report of the State-Federal Division of Agricultural Statistics.

Farmers were pictured as champing at the bit to get on with field work after the long delay this spring.

Spring work picked up momentum last week in the western half of the state but progress was slow in eastern counties where top soil was still a little too wet to work.

Sugar planting is well along in the west and farmers have made some headway with plowing, discing and fertilizing in the western half of the state.

West Needs Rain

Winter wheat has made good progress in the west but surface moisture is getting a little short in some western areas, the crop report noted. Rapid drying resulted in crusting and cracking of surface soil and some growers are using rotary hoes to break the packed surface.

Late wheat in central and eastern counties progresses slowly but early plantings are gaining in condition. Spring growth has been retarded by heavy snow cover and below normal temperatures. Some acreage was lost by exposure to low temperatures during the winter and standing water has taken more than the usual toll.

Pastures in southern counties began greening up last week. In the western districts winter grain fields were being pastured and cattle were again foraging in corn and milo stalk fields.

More seasonable temperatures have proved favorable for livestock. Feedlots are beginning to dry and cattle are making somewhat better

Wheat 'Virtually All-State Crop'

Commonly thought of as a "western Nebraska" crop, statistics show that wheat is "virtually an all-Nebraska crop," according to Robert Florell, chief of the Nebraska Wheat Commission.

Florell said Tuesday that in an average year, 52% of the state's wheat crop is grown in the south central and south-eastern parts of the state.

One out of 6 agricultural dollars comes from wheat, and 3 out of 4 Nebraska farm families grow wheat, Florell reported.

Big Demand Seen For Farm Labor

A very strong demand for farm labor is expected in the late spring as farm work is nearing its peak in the western part of the state and fields are rapidly drying in the eastern part, the Nebraska Division of Employment Security reported Tuesday.

Shortages or strong demand for farm hands were reported at Alliance, Columbus, Grand Island, Kearney, McCook, Norfolk, Scottsbluff and Sidney.

Despite Bad Weather February Sales Off Only 2.9%

Nebraska's retail sales in February reflect the indecisive effect of the month's severe weather.

The sales showed a 2.9% decline over a year ago but a 1.0% increase over the previous month, according to Business in Nebraska, a monthly bulletin prepared by the University of Nebraska's department of business research.

The western part of the state, where the winter presumably was milder, showed little difference in retail sales movement from the eastern part.

Scottsbluff showed a 2.5% increase over a year ago, but Chadron showed a 2% drop and Alliance a 6.9% drop.

Auto dealers had the worst record during the month, with a 12.8% decline over a year ago. In unadjusted city business index—computed from bank debits, building activity, retail sales, electricity and gas consumed, water pumped, postal receipts and newspaper advertising—Nebraska showed an 8.0% increase over a year ago. The major cities showing increases were: Fremont, up 13.2%; Broken Bow, 11.6%; Norfolk, 8.2%; Omaha, 7.9%; Lincoln, 6.8%; Falls City and North Platte, both 4.0%; Nebraska City, 3.3%; Grand Island, 2.6%; Alliance and Scottsbluff, both 2.4%; Columbus, 3.0%; Holdrege, 2.2%; Chadron, 2.1%; York, 1.4%; McCook, 1.2%; Fairbury, 0.4%; Hastings, 0.1%.

Only Kearney showed a decrease, down 0.4%.

The city-by-city retail sales index for February, adjusted for seasonal and price changes, follows:

Consumer Installment Loans Up 23.6%; Reach $93 Million

A large jump in consumer installment loans in Nebraska banks was reported this week in the April issue of Business in Nebraska.

The increase jumped the retail, automobile, repair and personal loan figure to more than $93 million, or 23.6% above that recorded last year.

In the monthly bulletin prepared by the department of business research, Dr. Edgar Z. Palmer said the desirability of this is "subject to question, but is definitely the mark of present prosperity."

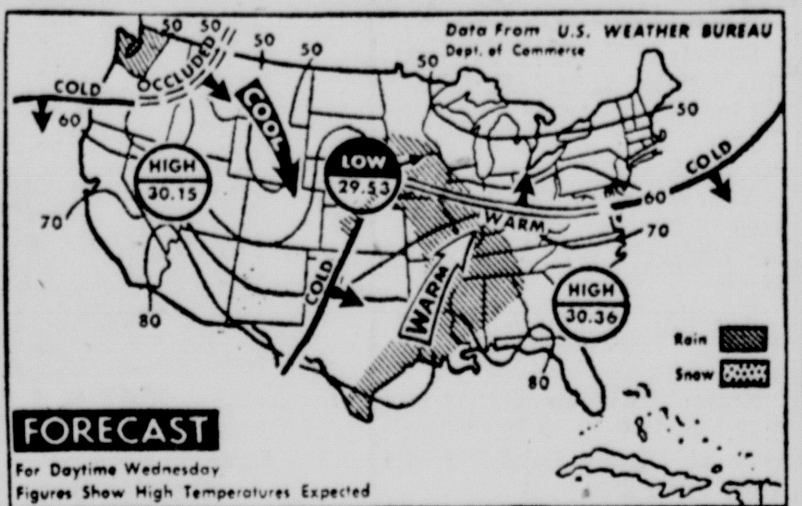

"The total picture is that of a state with its base still on the farm, but progressing gradually from the agricultural toward the business economy," he said.

The statistics show that loans to Nebraska farmers are at a third of a billion dollars, more than to any other group.

While total loans in the state went up 7% despite a slight decline in total assets, loans to farmer are declining.

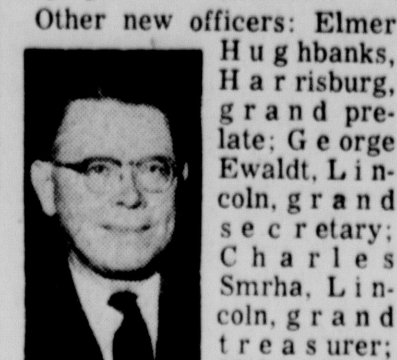

"As we have remarked in previous years, it is hard to determine whether this is a sign of farm prosperity or of farm distress," Dr. Palmer said.

April Showers Likely Here
Scattered showers or thunderstorms are expected Wednesday for the middle and lower Mississippi Valley, and in portions of the Gulf Coast states and western Kentucky and Tennessee. Rain is forecast in western Washington. Fair weather is expected for the rest of the nation, with temperatures down slightly in most of the Great Plains. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Assorted Issues' Strength Lends Spark To Stocks

New York (AP)—Strength in assorted issues lent a bit of spark to an otherwise drab stock market Tuesday. Trading was quiet.

Meanwhile, American Telephone, the most widely held stock of all, met renewed investment demand, touched a new high and gained 1/4 as fourth most active stock.

The Dow Jones industrial average rose 1 1/2 to 625.50.

The Associated Press average of 40 stocks rose 1/2 to 170.25, and the utilities rose 1/4 to 170.25.

Of 139 issues traded, declines outnumbered advances by 50 to 47. New 1960 highs topped 37 and new lows 30.

Volume slipped to 2,470,000 shares from 2,520,000 Monday and was the lightest since April 1 when 2,560,000 shares changed hands.

Ten of the 15 most active stocks advanced, three declined and two were unchanged.

Market Holiday

United States securities exchanges and most commodity markets will be closed Good Friday, April 15. Some livestock markets will remain open.

Eaton Seeks Increased Soldiers' Homes' Funds

... $900 Yearly For Each Veteran Asked

Washington (AP)—Increased federal payments to state soldiers homes were sought from Congress Tuesday by Lawrence Eaton, head of the Nebraska home in Grand Island.

He told the state's congressional delegation a pending bill would increase the payment from $700 to $900 yearly for each veteran in the homes.

Eaton said this amounts to less than half the total cost of maintaining each resident. He explained any veteran who is disabled to the point he can't work and has a limited income is eligible for admittance.

State Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton, during the weekly breakfast meeting, invited members of the delegation to get together with representatives of the grain industry in Nebraska during the Easter holiday.

He said the grain officials want to discuss their reasons

NU Group Will Honor Dr. Baker

R. Marvel Baker, assistant dean of agriculture at the University of Nebraska, will be guest of honor at the annual Block and Bridle Club Friday, April 22.

Dr. Baker's portrait will be placed with those of other outstanding Nebraska stockmen in Animal Husbandry Hall.

The banquet will be held at 6:30 p.m. in the Student Union, city campus.

Lutherans Lease

Lexington Hospital

Lexington (AP)—The Lexington City Council has leased Lexington's 44-bed community hospital to the Lutheran Hospital and Homes Society of Fargo, N. D., for a 10-year period, City Clerk Sy Gillan announced.

The rental will be $1 per year and the society will be required to maintain the building and equipment.

'Nebraska Should Have Carter Lake'

Omaha (AP)—Nebraska members of the Iowa-Nebraska boundary commission will insist that Carter Lake be made a part of Nebraska, commission Secretary Robert E. O'Keefe of Omaha said.

"I don't only want it in Nebraska; I want it annexed to the city of Omaha. And that's what I'm going to fight for," he said in comment on a vote by the Iowa Boundary Study committee. The Iowa Committee favored retention of Carter Lake in Iowa even though it will remain on the Nebraska side after completion of the Missouri River channel stabilization by the Army Engineers.

"If the boundary line is going to be in the center of the river, then Carter Lake should be in Nebraska," O'Keefe said.

"Carter Lake people buy their food and their cars here; they work in Omaha. And they ought to be a part of Omaha."

South Dakota Senators Are Backing Seaton

Washington (AP)—Secretary of Interior Fred A. Seaton got a vice presidential boost from South Dakota's two Republican senators Tuesday.

Sens. Francis Case and Karl E. Mundt suggested the 50-year-old Seaton would make a good running mate for Richard M. Nixon should the latter be named the GOP presidential candidate.

Their action follows recent announced support for Seaton from two other Midwestern states.

North Dakota's delegates to the GOP national convention in Chicago this July were instructed to back Seaton for the ticket's No. 2 spot. The Nebraska GOP state convention also adopted a resolution endorsing Seaton for the post.

Seaton has said he isn't seeking the nomination.

Change Opposed

Scottsbluff (AP)—The Scottsbluff Chamber of Commerce passed a resolution Tuesday opposing the bill which would change the designation of the Scotts Bluff National Monument to a historic site.

Low Down

Amman (AP)—Jordan is thinking of building a two million dollar international airport near the Dead Sea at 1,300 feet below normal sea level.
